A NATIONAL BUILDING FOR THE BOOK TRADE.

THE proposal of Mr. B. W. Huebsch, outlined in his letter reprinted elsewhere in this issue, to erect in New York City a Graphic Arts Building which would serve as a home and headquarters for the book publishing, bookselling and allied trades, is an interesting one, while, from the practical standpoint, it has much to commend it.

Such a building, housing the headquarters of the American Booksellers' Association and other trade organizations, the Book Trade School and Library, the trade clearing house, perhaps, and a dozen other allied forms of trade activity, would provide a much-needed focal point and center for book trade interests.

The idea of a permanent central exhibition place for the lines of all the publishers has, in itself, much to commend it, especially, of course, from the buyer's standpoint. We have had nothing of the sort in this country since the annual book auction sales of a score or more years ago. The influences that caused their gradual extinction are still in force, but, fortunately, they do not affect this other plan of trade sales centralization.

Such centralized trade exhibits are the regular thing abroad, in the book trade and out of it. It may not be realized, however, that a half-dozen diverse trades already have just such permanent exhibitions on display in New York City. The architects and building people have several. Last year a Buyer's Exchange was started for the buyers of five, ten and twenty-five-cent goods, and we understand that now at least two hundred and fifty different lines are being regularly displayed thus co-operatively under one roof—many of them stationery lines, by the way. This particular exhibit consists of long aisles of conveniently arranged and artistic booths in a modern, well-lighted loft building. Every convenience is at hand for visiting buyers, who are urged to make the Exchange their city headquarters. Stationery and temporary office facilities are supplied them without charge and their mail handled. A trained sales force is in attendance and every endeavor made to save both the time and energy of the visiting merchant. The cost of operating this particular Exchange is borne entirely by the exhibitors; buyers gain admittance on the presentation of annual passes distributed by the exhibitors.

Such a Book Trade Exchange in itself would be sufficient reason for the erection of such a building as Mr. Huebsch describes. The other trade activities would soon be housed there also by a natural process of accretion. The project is still, of course, in the suggestion stage; it is a suggestion, however, which seems well worth following up.

A RECENT copyright decision, summarized elsewhere, illustrates anew the danger of attempting to take out more than one copyright on one copyrightable production. This danger came home to artists in a serious way, some years ago, when a copyright suit was thrown out of court because the claimant rested his case on a second copyright which he had taken out for his painting, which he had previously copyrighted as a photograph or sketch. In this case, it was held that the second copyright was not only unnecessary but invalid because it attempted a prolongation of the life of the first copyright. The case now decided presents another phase of the objections to duplicating copyrights. The author of a dramatico-musical composition copyrighted as such, also copyrighted as a piece of music a song from this general work and published it separately. A book is published to be read, and a piece of music is published to be sung or played, and the right to read or to sing or play the composition naturally passes to the purchaser of the book or musical publication. In the case cited, the performance of the song, or its melody, at a public place, not directly a performance for money, but incidental to the work of the orchestra, was held to be within the right of the purchaser of the musical composition; and the decision practically points out that while the copyrighting of the dramatico-musical composition, as such, might have reserved right of public production, that right could no longer be claimed for the portion of the work separately published and sold as a musical composition.

To those who had ever watched or participated in a real track meet, the track games down on Staten Island on Saturday must have seemed very crude. The committee in charge of the games quite properly felt that the contests were strictly amateur and that everybody had come down primarily to have a good time, anyway. This is entirely right; it is essential that such a meet be kept as unprofessional and informal as possible. Far from being intended solely for the crack athletes in the trade, the games are for every member of the Booksellers' League who has two good legs. In even the most amateur of contests, however, one likes to have a fair run for his money, and this a number of the men who went down to the Field Day did not get. It is practically impossible to run a hundred-yard dash around a corner of a track, thereby necessitating a sharp turn in the middle of the sprint, without somebody getting hurt. As a matter of fact, in practically every one of the half-dozen heats one of the three runners went down in the mix-up at the turn, and two of the men got nasty cuts. It is equally impossible to run three men to a heat on a track measuring a scant four feet wide. In the relay race, all seven entrants were forced to run at once. It was painfully ludicrous to see them elbowing each other off the track in a vain effort to get room to run in; this congestion could have been remedied easily by running two or three preliminary heats, the winner in each to race a third heat for the cup. More inexplicable was the settlement of the tie for second in the broad jump. Instead of having this jumped off immediately, the judges passed to the next event; after dinner the medal was arbitrarily assigned to one of the tied men because, it being late, the other man had gone home. Everybody wants to see the games kept informal, but whether enjoyably amateur or tediously professional, the prime essential in any contest is fair play to everyone competing. The handicaps under which the judges labored were obvious. But surely, if the Field Day is to be a Field Day, it must be held in a place with tolerable facilities for field athletics. The baseball game arrangements shone by contrast.

NEW YORK BOOKSELLERS HOLD SECOND ANNUAL FIELD DAY.

ONE prize was not awarded at the New York Booksellers' League Field Day down at Grant City, Staten Island, last Saturday.

It was to have been given to the person who did not have a good time, and though Mr. McKeachie stayed until half past ten he failed to find anyone eligible for the award. A whole yearful of pent-up "pep" was loosed by the booksellers—some played ball, some competed in track games, some danced, some bowled, and R. E. Sherwood worked his off through his megaphone. There was no such distinction as boss and stock room boy and Mr. Burkhardt seemed as pleased over little Brady's lightning lap in the Dutton team's effort to lift the relay race as if he had done it himself.

THE BASEBALL GAME.

The spectators did not have to wait long for things to begin to happen in the ball game between the Baker & Taylor and American News Co. teams. They began to happen with the first man up in the first inning. Lawlor, who started in the box for Baker & Taylor, had a side-arm-hurling-the-discus delivery which looked good to the News Co. swatters and they leaned on him for five runs in the first. After that he was yanked in favor of Sharkey, who pitched a steady game for the remaining six rounds. The Baker & Taylor crowd came right back in their half of the first and slid two runs across before Housechild could stop them. Thereafter they never had more than a bird's-eye view of the plate from second base. The features of the game were Flood's running catch of a foul into the trees back of third base, Gomlicker's clean handling of several nasty throws to first, and the hitting of Rom.

Their 9 to 2 victory gives the American News Co. the first leg on the cup.

The box score follows:

TRACK AND FIELD GAMES.

The track on which the races were run was execrable and several good men were crowded out or tripped at the narrow turns; barring this, however, the races were keenly contested. Edward Sharkey, the all-round athlete of the Baker & Taylor Co., captured the silver medal from a big field in the hundred, with C. Clarke, of Scribner's, second. John Sales, also of Baker & Taylor, copped the running broad jump, while A.

THOS. NELSON & SONS' TEAM, WINNERS OF THE 400 YARDS RELAY RACE, GIVING THEM POSSESSION OF THE SILVER CUP FOR 1915.

Tinken, American News Co., and Clarke, of Scribner's, tied for second, the bronze medal going to Tinken on the jump off owing to Clarke's defaulting. Fox, of Harper, heaved the 12-pound shot 41 feet, 1 inch, while Alfred A. Knopf, publisher, was but 9 inches behind him. Robert Auld, of Scribner's, galloped home first in the classic event of the day, the fat man's race, and another Scribner heavyweight, Charles Kopp, wheezed across the tape a near-winner. In the buyers' race, A. Marcus, of H. Goldstein, was first, and Vandover, of Henry Malkan, second. Harry F. Peto, of Dutton's, won the once-around-the-track race, with Tinken, of the American News Co., second.

Thomas Nelson & Sons' relay team ran a beautiful race, capturing the race and with it the first leg on the relay cup. The four men on the team were W. J. Crosbie, Edw. Sulzer, J. Walker, and George Abbott. Six other firms competed: Scribner's, represented by Byrnes, Hettinger, McFall, and Daly;

American News Co., represented by Tinken, Housechild, Beauvis, and Masters; E. P. Dutton, represented by H. F. Peto, E. Vey, M. J. Brady, and A. Skeats; Baker & Taylor Co., represented by H. R. Woods, J. Sales, F. Flood, and C. Vail; Henry Malkan, represented by M. & T. Tulis, M. Lipschutz, and R. Beatty; and Brentano's, represented by J. Stern, J. Cussick, J. McMullin, and F. Rusch.

WOMEN'S RACES.

Thanks to the fact that tight skirts are no longer "in," the ladies picked up their skirts—even as the prophet of old—and ran some exciting races. Miss A. Gabard, of the Century Co., streaked home ahead of the field for the silver cup in the 60-yard dash. Miss Irene Frawley, of Dodd, Mead, Mrs. L. M. Pleasanton, of Brentano's, and Miss Jean Ethel McAfee were first in the three following 50-yard dashes, while Mrs. J. O'Connor, wife of J. O'Connor, of Putnam's, won the married women's race.

THE EATS.

And then came the dinner. The photographer wanted a picture, but he didn't stand the ghost of a show against the lure of that dinner. Afterward someone overheard one of the waiters engaged in cleaning up the debris say that he "hadn't never seen a crowd eat like them hungry booksellers."

A TRIUMPH FOR THE BOOKSELLERS' SCHOOL.

During the course of the meal prizes were awarded to the man and woman holding the lucky numbers drawn from a hat. Henry F. Meyer, of Harper & Bros., won the men's prize, a handsome fountain pen, and the women's prize went to Miss Gordon, of the Booksellers' School. Mr. Huebsch claims that Miss Gordon's ability to win the prize at her first field day and after only one course at the Booksellers' School is a tremendous vindication of the work of the School during the past winter.

DANCING AND BOWLING.

After dinner came the dancing in which Miss Lillian Hirsch and James McMullen, both of Brentano's, won the prizes. Meanwhile, from the long, low building in one corner of the park came the ominous rumble of the bowlers. Finally Mr. Mills, of Barse & Hopkins, emerged victor in the men's bowling with George Kleinteich, Brooklyn bookseller, runner up. In the ladies' bowling Mrs. Henry Geirsburg and Mrs. George Kleinteich carried off the honors.

"GLAD" AND REPRINT CUPS.

One of the features of the evening was the awarding of the "Pollyanna" cup by the Page Co. to the "gladdest" woman in the trade, and of the "Reprint" cup by Grosset & Dunlap to the most popular woman in the trade. They were both handsome, sixteen-inch cups. Mrs. Sherwood captured the first, while Miss Belle Morris, of H. C. F. Koch & Co., got the second.

A great deal of credit is due the various committees who put the field day across. This year's outing, the second of the kind ever held by the New York booksellers, proved such an unqualified success that already those back of the outing are planning even a bigger "blow out" for 1916.

SCRANTON BANKS TAKE CONTROL OF I. C. S. BOOK CO.

ABOUT one hundred and fifty of the eight thousand or more stockholders of the International Text Book Company learned on June 28 at the annual meeting of stockholders in the company's offices in Scranton that there is no prospect that they will receive dividends again for several years.

The stockholders also learned that several Scranton bankers had consented to loan the textbook company $500,000, taking in exchange not only notes of the company, repayable at the rate of $20,000 a month after next February, but also the entire bond issue of $1,000,000, which the stockholders who were not present joined in authorizing by their proxies. Until this debt is repaid, under the arrangement with the bankers no dividend can be paid. The banks will hold as security for the loan all the company's assets.

Other things which the stockholders who were present learned were these:

That of the amount of supposed assets of the International Textbook Company, stated at more than $16,000,000 in the annual report submitted by Thomas J. Foster, president of the company and founder of the International Correspondence Schools, which the textbook company owns, only $49,000 was in actual cash.

That, in order to conserve the property and also secure the $500,000 loan, it had been decided that the financial management of the company must be turned over to other hands than those of Foster and his associates.

In accordance with this plan, six Scranton bankers and business men who have arranged for the $500,000 loan were elected directors of the International Textbook Company, giving them a majority control of the corporation's board of directors.

In furtherance of this, W. L. Connell, J. K. Griffith, C. D. Simpson and E. A. Seitz were dropped from the board of directors, and in their places local men were elected.

On the new board of directors are Thomas J. Foster, founder of the school; Rufus J. Foster, vice president; E. H. Lawall, treasurer; Thomas E. Jones, a wealthy coal operator; and E. B. Magargee, a paper manufacturer. These men are all members of the old board. The new members, who will have a majority, are C. S. Woolworth, of the People's Bank; George S. Brooks, of the Merchants' and Mechanics' Bank; J. J. Jermyn, of the Traders' National Bank; Mortimer B. Fuller, president of the International Salt Company and director of the Scranton Savings and Dime Bank; James A. Linen, Jr., of the First National Bank, and David Boies, of the Scranton Trust Company, all men prominent in business and connected with the Scranton Board of Trade.

The reasons that prompted these men to come to the aid of the International Correspondence School and the textbook company were twofold: First, that many of their depositors and other affiliations were directly interested in the stock of this company, of which $10,000,000 has been sold to the public, and, second, that the closing up of the schools or a receivership for the company would be a severe blow to Scranton.

NEW YORK RETAIL MERCHANTS TO FIGHT COUPONS AND PRICE CUTTING

REPRESENTATIVES of seventeen New York retail organizations met on June 24th and formed the Conference of Independent Retailers of the Metropolitan District, the purpose of which is to foster the interests of its members through publicity and legislation. It will direct its efforts especially against all forms of unfair competition, among which it includes the premium coupon system and the price cutting of the large department stores.

The conference will conduct an active campaign in favor of the Stevens bill. A copy of a resolution to this effect will be dispatched to President Wilson and to each of the members of the Senate and of the House.

A resolution condemning the use of coupons and trading stamps was endorsed unanimously. It was said that whatever value coupons and trading stamps might have possessed originally as trade stimulants had been lost through the general distribution of the system. The original resolution of the conference was directed specifically against several of the largest coupon and trading stamp companies now operating, but this was later modified to a broad protest against the practice. The purpose of the change was to eliminate possibility of action by the coupon concerns under the provisions of the Sherman anti-trust act. Attention was directed to the fate of the Rochester grocers, who were sued by a premium concern for acting, in similar manner, as a combination in restraint of trade.

The meeting was called under the auspices of the American Fair Trade League, but the new conference is distinct from the league and will follow its own policy. In beginning the present campaign against coupons and trading stamps the conference is taking up the fight already conducted by the American Publishers' Association, Marshall Field & Co., the National Retail Dry Goods Association and other merchandise bodies.

The officers of the new organization are: Dr. Wm. C. Anderson, dean of the Brooklyn College of Pharmacy, president; J. C. Bremner, representing the New York Talking Machine Dealers, first vice president; J. M. Kohlmer, delegate for the Hardware Dealers, second vice president; Carl Ackerman, secretary, and John Steencke, of the Retail Grocers' Association, treasurer.

NEW PUBLISHER TO SPECIALIZE IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE.

William Lyon Phelps of Yale commences the preface to his "Essays on Russian Novelists" by saying: "Russian fiction is like German music—the best in the world." Certain it is that whereas we in America have produced no really great work of fiction, at least six such have come from Russia. Consequently the announcement that a new publisher is really "going in for" the publication of Russian literature—not a subscription edition of all the classics, not stray books from a number of authors, but all of the novels of real value—is of more than passing interest.

Alfred A. Knopf, the publisher in question, located at 220 W. 42d street, New York City, is already announcing the first of his list. It includes both works by the interesting younger Russians and the works of the older men of the Nineteenth Century whose dumbly human appeal is as genuine to the Russian of to-day as to the Russian of half a century ago. Among the works of these earlier men, some of them never before translated into English, Mr. Knopf announces "Taras Bulba," Gogol's Homeric tale of the Cossacks; Gontcharov's masterpiece, "Oblomov"; Lermontov's ingratiating story, "A Hero of Our Times"; and "The Cathedral Staff," Leskov's huge classic of the clergy. From the work of the newer men he has chosen Kuprin's fine military novel, "The Duel," and a volume of stories by this most impressive of contemporary Russian writers; Ropschin's "As If It Had Never Happened," an amazing picture of the last great Russian revolution of a decade ago; a number of stories by the brilliant young Sologub, including his most important novel, "The Little Demon," and "The Old House"; Veressayev's notable "Memoirs of a Physician"; a volume of seventeen of Garshin's stories, including "Four Days," a terribly real picture of what war means to the private soldier; and also some of the work of Bunin, Kamensky, and Erastov. The drama will be represented by plays by Ostrovsky, Turgenev, and Gogol.

Mr. Knopf does not plan, however, to devote himself exclusively to translations or to Russian literature. He will publish a new and cheaper edition of Prince Kropotkin's "Russian Literature," and has under way the translation of a striking Polish novel.

A HOME FOR THE GRAPHIC ARTS.

New York City, May 27, 1915.

Editor THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY:

The following is a plan for a home for the book and allied trades and some reasons for presenting the project. The home would create a center for authors; publishers of books, pictures and music; booksellers and the trade press. There is no thought of a union of these branches; for the present that would be impractical and inexpedient. But the closer understanding and mutuality that would spring from dwelling under a common roof is implied.

A TIMELY WINDOW DISPLAY BY SMITH & LAMAR OF DALLAS, TEXAS.

Harper & Brothers say: "The color-scheme of this window was very effective; the bottom of the window was covered with crepe paper of alternating colors, red, white and blue. At the back of the window hung a large American flag, and in front there were two smaller flags draped around the President's photograph. This display excited so much attention in Dallas, that one of the afternoon papers telephoned to the retail department asking them to advise them of the number of sales obtained as a result. Smith & Lamar state that at the end of a week they had sold three hundred (300) copies of "When a Man Comes To Himself."

The Book Trade Building, The Graphic Arts Building, or whatever else it may be called, should be the headquarters of the Author's League, the Publishers' Co-operative Bureau (or such more comprehensive organization as may succeed it), the Booksellers' League, the American Booksellers' Association, the art, music and book trade organs, the art and music publishers.

The Booksellers School, now in embryo but certain of permanency, and whose success is vital to the future of the trade, would there find its natural abode.

An adequate bibliographical library should be established there; such a library would be of incalculable value to publishers, booksellers and authors and, indirectly, to the public.

In the building there should be a gallery for a permanent display of books, music and the graphic arts. This would be merely for exhibition and would help the public, the publisher and the retail dealer. It would make unnecessary the hasty and incomplete annual exhibition of the books of the year; it would at all times afford an opportunity to book lovers to examine all the current books—an impossibility at any retail bookstore without fabulous capital and a foolhardy proprietor.

A bureau of book information for the public as well as for authors, booksellers and publishers, would serve to unite the functions now scattered and imperfectly performed because none can afford to exercise them completely. The bureau would be directed by the librarian, an expert in whom knowledge of literature, publishing and bookselling should be combined. There are such men; there will be more.

The building would be an exchange; all of the agencies engaged in the production and distribution of books, pictures and music would co-operate, preserving their present identity and autonomy but acting as a whole when a temporary union seemed desirable.

The plan is not complex. The various organizations would simply move into this new structure and pay a new landlord. The building would be built and financed after the manner common to real estate owners, who suit prospective tenants upon the guarantee of a stipulated percentage of the cost. The participating organizations might arrange for a lower rate than other tenants; offices in the building would prove attractive to publishers, literary agents, newspaper representatives, paper manufacturers and book manufacturers. There should be a lecture hall and a restaurant and perhaps some club features. It is true that the creation and maintenance of the library, the information bureau, the school and the exhibition would offer difficulties, but they are not insurmountable. They are the pains incident to healthy growth.

The dignity of the trade would demand that if a building be erected it be beautiful; one that would justify the poetic conception of architecture as "frozen music." Thus because of its attractive exterior it would, in itself, become a permanent advertisement, a monument to the glory of the book. An adequate realization by the man in the street of the importance of books and book production to our national life would be one of the results. And the edifice would afford inspiration and a healthy stimulus to the entire book and publishing trade of America.

W. B. HUEBSCH.

NORTH CAROLINA BOOKSELLERS' AND STATIONERS' ASSOCIATION.

THE North Carolina Booksellers' and Stationers' Association held its annual meeting at Asheville, June 15. A number of papers on subjects of interest to booksellers and publishers were read by members of the association. "How to Secure the Most Efficiency from the Employees" was the subject of a paper by Harry Abrams, of Rocky Mount. "Effective and Non-Effective Advertising" was covered by W. H. Watkins, of Winston-Salem. "The Development of Office Systems and Supply Departments" was the subject of the paper of R. M. Pund, of Charlotte, while E. L. Brown, Jr., of Asheville, discussed

"Departmentizing and Systematizing the Business." "State School Book Adoption and Trade Discounts" was the topic assigned to E. S. Wills, of Greensboro. Following the presentation of each paper, a general discussion was engaged in by the delegates in attendance upon the meeting, and the following subjects were among the topics discussed informally: "Fire and Corporation Insurance, Its Importance and the Best Methods of Securing Reduced Premiums"; "Interior Attractiveness of Stores"; "The Advantages and Disadvantages of Special Sales."

The following officers were elected to serve during the coming year, all of whom were chosen to succeed themselves: President, H. Taylor Rogers, of Asheville; secretary, E. S. Wills, of Greensboro; directors, the two officers named; C. H. Robinson, of Charlotte; W. H. Watkinson, of Winston-Salem; M. E. Newsome, Jr., of Durham, and D. C. Love, of Wilmington. In their selection of Mr. Rogers as president of the association the stationers conferred a distinct honor upon the Asheville merchant. He was chosen as the head of the organization at the first meeting at which it was formed, and has served continuously for the past four years.

The selection of the place of holding the next meeting was referred to the members of the board of directors, who will make their announcement following the choosing of the next meeting place of the North Carolina Merchants' Association, which was at Asheville last week. As a rule, the booksellers and stationers hold their annual meetings at the same place and the same time that the dealers in all lines are in session, so that their members may make one trip, giving them an opportunity to attend the sessions of both conventions.

COPYRIGHT NOTES.

MUSICAL AND DRAMATICO-MUSICAL COPYRIGHT.

IN Herbert et al. v. Shanley Co. (222 F. R., 344), adjudicated by Judge Hand in the District Court, S. D., New York, on May first of the current year, Victor Herbert and the other authors of the comic opera, "Sweethearts," asked for an injunction prohibiting Shanley from having a singer sing a certain solo from "Sweethearts" in the Shanley cabaret. Their motion was based on the claim that the performance infringed the copyright of the dramatico-musical composition.

Judge Hand denied the motion of the complainants, saying in part:

"The authors took out a copyright upon the song separately as a musical composition, and in so doing they necessarily gave into the public domain all musical rights, except as they were covered by the resulting copyright. Whatever be the minimum of musical rights, it includes the right to perform the music publicly without any unnecessary accessories. Singing the words to the music, accompanied by the orchestra, is therefore within the musical rights so dedicated. On the other hand, we now have it, on the authority of Church Co. v. Hillard, that a public performance of this kind is not within the statutory copyright which the plaintiffs received as consideration for their dedication. It seems necessarily to follow that the performance did not infringe.

"This result no doubt involves the abandonment of some rights, secured by the dramatico-musical copyright, but that is because the plaintiffs wished a double protection. There can be no justice in preserving their dramatic rights at the expense of the public's rights arising from taking out a musical copyright. Had they wished to retain a complete dramatic monopoly, they had it in their power to do so. As it is, that monopoly remains to their complete protection, except so far as its limitation is necessary to give full scope to the musical copyright. For instance, if the performance here had been anything beyond the least essentials to a musical reproduction of the copyrighted song, it would be protected; but it was not. The plaintiffs are really trying to eat their cake and have it; they would get the full benefit of a musical copyright, while they prevent the public from enjoying the corresponding rights.

"The motion is denied."

PERIODICAL NOTES.

Others is a new monthly devoted to the interests of poetry. The editors are Messrs. Alfred Kreyborg and Walter Conrad Arensberg, and the magazine is issued temporarily from Ridgefield, N. J.

A SPECIAL MEETING of The American Bookplate Society was held at Columbia University in March at which time Mr. Carver resigned as Secretary-Treasurer and H. A. Fowler, editor of The Miscellany, was elected to succeed him. Miss Hill was elected to the Board of Governors. The Miscellany was adopted as the official journal of the Society.

BECAUSE the American flag figured in their cover designs, the issues of three magazines have been barred from circulation in Boston under penalty of a fine. The July number of The Modern Priscilla shows the figure of an aged woman industriously sewing an American flag. The Youth's Companion has withdrawn the entire issue, for its cover design showed a girl, tin horn in one hand, fire-crackers in the other, and with two small flags woven in her hair. Leslie's Weekly for June 3 featured a large American flag, with excerpts from the United States' note to Germany. Under the Massachusetts law regarding advertising, Police Superintendent Crowley contends that the flag is used to attract attention and secure the sale of the magazines.

THE PERIODICAL PUBLISHERS' ASSOCIATION of America has just issued "Bulletin No. 15 of Discharged or Criminal Agents." This 266 page bulletin bears witness to the enormous amount of misdirected energy being expended by fake subscription agents. It also bears very effective witness to the good work being done by the association, for, among other things, it gives the records of two hundred and twenty-five fraudulent agents arrested and convicted through the efforts of the association during the past eighteen months. It contains over seven hundred cuts of signatures and photographs, along with 203 pages of descriptions of the movements of various reported fraudulent agents. The bulletin is being sent to the Chiefs of Police of all towns in the United States having upwards of two thousand population.

PERSONAL NOTES.

HERBERT S. HOUSTON, of Doubleday, Page & Co., was elected president of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World at the recent convention in Chicago.

JOHN G. QUINIUS, who has had forty years' book trade experience, is leaving his position with the United Brethren Publishing House at Dayton, Ohio, and is open to a new engagement.

C. A. MERRILL, a bookseller and stationer, of Winchendon, Mass., sustained a slight concussion of the brain and a number of bruises recently when he was thrown from his motorcycle.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

HOUGHTON MIFFLIN Co. will publish Mary Roberts Rinehart's new story, "K," on August 7.

"CONTRARY MARY" is in its 25th thousand and editions of the book have been sold in Canada, Australia, and England.

JULY 10TH IS THE DATE set by the Page Co. for the publication of L. M. Montgomery's new "Anne" book, "Anne of the Island."

A NEW EDITION of "The Evolution of Literature" by A. S. Mackenzie has just been brought out by the Thomas Y. Crowell Co.

KLAW & ERLANGER are planning to produce "Pollyanna" about the middle of August. The book was dramatized by Charlotte Chisholm Cushing.

THE BOOKPLATE WORLD has lost three active enthusiasts in the last few months: George W. Eve, the English artist, Frank E. Marshall, the veteran collector of Philadelphia, and A. Winthrop Pope, an enthusiastic Boston collector, having passed away.

MISSOURI'S HONEST ADVERTISING LAW, enacted by the last Legislature, became effective June 18. The law applies to every form of business. It prohibits misstatements of fact in any form of advertising, including posters, circulars and letters. Fines and jail penalties are provided for violations.

GOVERNOR JOHNSON, OF CALIFORNIA, has signed Senate Bill No. 404, which makes it unlawful for any person to make false representations in an advertisement. The bill was fostered by the Los Angeles Ad Club and strongly endorsed by leading business men and advertisers.

THE G. & C. MERRIAM COMPANY has just received word that its Webster's dictionary exhibit at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition in San Francisco has received the highest award—the grand prize. The award at San Francisco follows a long series of similar awards to the Merriam Webster's dictionaries given at other international expositions.

MICHAEL O'HALLORAN—roll it under your tongue, it's a good-sounding name—is the title which Doubleday, Page & Co. will publish of the new novel by Gene Stratton-Porter on August 17. It is the first novel from the author of "Freckles" in two years, and its publishers are so certain of its worth that they are planning to print 300,000 copies before publication.

READERS OF JEFFERY FARNOL'S delightful romances—and they are many—will welcome his "Beltane the Smith" which Little, Brown & Co. will publish in November. In the forthcoming story—now running in McClure's—the author goes back to the crude but romantic "merrie England" of the days when bows twanged in the greenwood and arrows still brought down their dappled prey.

THERE ARE APPROXIMATELY 5000 Camp Fire Girls in the United States, and plenty of other girls who would like to be Camp Fire Girls. Most of them, we imagine, would be "pleased as Punch" to get a letter from a bookseller about "Sebago-Wohelo Camp Fire Girls," the new book on the movement, published by Good Health Publishing Co., and a great many would probably be so pleased that they would buy the book.

BY ARRANGEMENT WITH The Sunday School Times Company, of Philadelphia, the Fleming H. Revell Co., of New York and Chicago, is handling the Sunday School Time's book publications for the trade. The Revell Company's extensive selling arrangements are thus utilized for a group of important books in the field of Bible study and Christian service, and it is expected that the plan will prove a convenience to all concerned.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS' retail store in New York has had a simple but timely window display during the past week. In the foreground were a number of relics from the European battlefields, including a German knapsack, sabre, bayonet, cap, "Gott mit Uns" belt, a French artillery revolver, identification tag, etc., as well as pieces of shrapnel shell and models of a military scouting monoplane and of a military biplane. In the background was an imposing array of war books.

SO INTENSELY ARE WE LIVING in the present in these days of world struggle that the five-hundredth anniversary of the death of John Huss, which falls in July, will probably go well-nigh unnoticed. Yet one monument will be raised to the memory of the great Bohemian reformer through the publication by the Scribners of Dr. David Schaff's "John Huss, His Life, Teachings and Death." Dr. Schaff is professor of church history in the Western Theological Seminary.

THE POPULARITY OF oxymorons in book titles continues. Those piquant contradictions in a nutshell (just to let you know what oxymorons are) have a certain curiosity-provoking quality that allures the book buyer. "Terrible Meek," for instance, made one pause. "Dear Enemy" announced as a serial by the Century makes one wonder. And "The Lovable Meddler," Miss Dalrymple's new title makes one pleasantly anticipatory. Doubtless that title alone will lure many a casual passer-by into the bookshop—for lovable meddling must be a delightfully interesting occupation.

"ON DESERT ALTARS" by Norma Lorimer, an Egyptian story described as a psychological study of a woman who loves unselfishly, was published last week by Brentano's. "The House of Many Mirrors," another novel by Violet Hunt, will appear shortly. This week appears from this house "At the Front with Three Armies" by Capt. Fortescue, U. S. A., correspondent for the London Daily Telegraph and the New York American who has been with the armies in the western theatre and also those around Warsaw in the east. In July Brentano's will put forth a new edition of W. L. George's "Bed of Roses."

THE APPOINTMENT of the South American trade committees by Secretary McAdoo opens up to booksellers a number of likely targets for books on South America. The personnel of the committees, as given in Greater New York, shows the following cities to have one or more citizens among the committeemen: Chattanooga, Cincinnati, Charleston (S. C.), Indianapolis, Chicago, New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Youngstown (O.), Baltimore, New Orleans, Moline (Ill.), Atlanta, Washington, St. Louis, Urbana (Ill.), Dayton (O.), Detroit, San Francisco.

"FIVE FRIDAYS" by Frank R. Adams (Small, Maynard) looks like an original and interesting bit of light summer reading. It looks original because the hero weighs 210 pounds and is 35 years old. It looks interesting because the trouble starts on the very first page when the slip of a girl with whom he is "comfortably in love" lures him into trying a starvation cure, and at the end the heavyweight 35-year old hero, only slightly reduced, actually wins her hand—shades of Howard Chandler Christy's sylph-like young wooers! The story is quaintly dedicated as follows: "In order to divide the responsibility for this I dedicate it to her who is responsible for me."

THE EXPERIENCE of Harper & Brothers has convinced them that the traveling public often prefers a small, light leather edition to the regular trade edition. In many bookstores, and particularly at railway stations where cloth and leather editions of "The Turmoil" and "When a Man Comes to Himself" have been stacked side by side, the leather edition has outstripped the cloth edition in point of sales. These limp leather editions were tried by Harper & Brothers as an experiment, and against the advice of a number of dealers, but so steadily are their sales increasing that Harper will continue to issue some of the new novels in this form.

MESSRS. CONSTABLE, of England, recently received an early copy of the Spanish edition of Roland Usher's famous book, "Pan-Germanism," under the more euphonious title, "Pangermanismo." The letter from the Madrid publishers which accompanied the copy makes the interesting statement that despite many and excellent reviews, the book has not sold at all. This sad fact, the Spanish publishers suggest, may be accounted for either by the complete indifference to the war of the Spanish public, or by the widespread propaganda and gratis distribution of German war literature which has gone on in every part of Spain. But it may be confidently asserted that neither public indifference nor German propaganda will impair the success either of the French translation (which is about to appear in Paris), or the new shilling edition of the English text.

WE DO NOT KNOW of a better bet for the bookseller for the summer 1915 than McLoughlin's book, "Tennis As I Play It." It seems to have everything in its favor; it is handsome in its format, written by a master in the tennis world, and a master who is still winning titles, and it comes at the beginning of the season. One of the outstanding features of the book is explained in the preface by R. N. Williams, National Champion, 1914, as follows: "People who write books on tennis or try to teach the game seem to get theories into their heads and believe that there is a right way or wrong way for everything, and they try to reorganize your game according to these ideas. This is fatal, and you will notice in the following pages that McLoughlin has no idea of so doing. He admits the fundamental principles of the game, but believes it is what is born in you that must be cultivated and brought to flower. . . . He presents you with basic ideas and illustrates his use of them, but he leaves it for you to execute them in your own particular way."

A SURE TIP.

THE family of a Connecticut judge had been reading Irvin Cobb's "Paths of Glory," and the old colored mammy in the family must have gotten hold of the book, for when the judge happened to ask her how long she thought the war would last, she promptly replied: "Jedge, dat wah gonna last jes' three years."

"How'd you find that out?" asked the judge. "De King o' Europe done told Ty Cobb."

Reference List of New Publications

Recorded in JUNE, 1915

This Reference List enters the books recorded during the month under (1) author, in Clarendon type, anonymous books having Clarendon type for the first word; (2) title in Roman; (3) subject-heading in SMALL CAPS; (4) name of series in Italics.

A colon after initial designates the most usual given name, as: A: Augustus; B: Benjamin; C: Charles; D: David; E: Edward; F: Frederick; G: George; H: Henry; I: Isaac; J: John; L: Louis; N: Nicholas; P: Peter; R: Richard; S: Samuel; T: Thomas. W: William.

For books received sizes are given in CAPS, Q, O, D, etc., books not received sizes are given in Roman numerals, i° 12°, etc. Prices are added except when not supplied by publisher or obtainable only on specific request. Where not specified the binding is cloth.

Those desiring to learn the entire publishing output of the month in any one field should look under one of the following MAIN HEADINGS:

PHILOSOPHY	MEDICINE	LITERATURE
RELIGION AND THEOLOGY	AGRICULTURE	POETRY
SOCIOLOGY	HOUSEHOLD ECONOMICS	DRAMA
LAW	BUSINESS	FICTION
EDUCATION	ENGINEERING, TECHNOLOGY	BIOGRAPHY
PHILOLOGY	FINE ARTS	GEOGRAPHY AND TRAVEL
SCIENCE	GAMES, SPORTS, AMUSEMENTS	HISTORY

Besides the titles listed under each of these headings cross reference is made from each to a limited number of cognate headings which collectively give all the new publications of the month in the given subject or group of subjects.

Inquirers looking for books on a specific topic should look under the general subject to which that topic belongs, i.e. GEOLOGY rather than SILURIAN PERIOD; MATHEMATICS rather than CALCULUS; ECONOMICS rather than WAGES. Books regarding specific Religious denominations, countries and persons, however, should still be sought for under their individual names.

NONE READ IT BUT TO PRAISE

THE HONEY BEE

A NOVEL BY

NEW YORK

The Honey Bee is richly suggestive of searching thought—withal it is a most excellent, a most readable novel, admirably well constructed and well written.—N. Y. Tribune.

An interesting and significant tale, worth reading and worth thinking about afterwards. Much bigger and more vital than any of its predecessors.—N. Y. Times.

BOSTON

A characteristic and vivid picture of the craving for love and homemaking that besets the heart of a successful American business woman is portrayed in The Honey Bee.—Boston Globe.

The Honey Bee has in it much liveliness and truth. Hilda is a noble creature, and plausible to a degree.—Boston Transcript.

CHICAGO

A curious and gripping novel—wonderfully true for a man's portrait of a woman—seizes and spells the reader—highly indicative and arresting—the kind of story that compels you to read it twice.—Chicago Herald.

A new book from Merwin's pen is an important occasion. The Honey Bee will not disappoint you if you have looked for something big from him.—Chicago Tribune.

PHILADELPHIA

The humanizing of an American business woman under unconventional and bohemian circumstances is the theme, and the author deserves credit for carrying his story to a logical and consistent conclusion.—Philadelphia Press.

Mr. Merwin has a knack of dramatism that would put human interest into a section of statistical abstract.—Philadelphia North American.
